

AANS 2019
The Science of Practice
San Diego, CA

AANS/WFNS Practical Clinic
035 Neurosurgery around the World: Education and Other Opportunities
Sunday April 14, 2019 - 12:30 pm to 4:30 pm
Course Director: Isabelle Germano

This course will provide the participants with an exposure to the current status of global neurosurgery, including organizations focused on increasing neurosurgical education through the world. The course will include a detailed explanation of the similarities and differences in Neurosurgical training in the 5 continents. An emphasis will be placed on the opportunities for collaboration in improving global neurosurgery education and training.

Learning Objectives: After completing this educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Recognize similarities and differences in Neurosurgical training
- Analyze the opportunities to participate in global education
- Discuss various ways to get involved in global neurosurgical education

Free registration to International Neurosurgery Residents**

Course Agenda

12:30 Isabelle Germano- Introduction

Session I- Neurosurgery training: currents structure, limitation, and future trends

12:45 Franco Servadei –Overall review on neurosurgical global needs

13:00 Richard Byrne-SNS

13:15 Mahmood Qureshi-CANS

13:30 Torstein R Meling- EANS

13:45 Jose Marcus Rotta- FLANC

14:00 Basant Misra-AASNS

14:15 Coffee break

Session II- Neurosurgery around the world: opportunities to educate. How do I do it?

14:30 Miguel Arrez- WFNS Foundation

14:45 Hakan Emmez -IBNC Turkey

15:00 Michael Haglund-US/Uganda

15:15 Najia El Abbadi- PAANS/Cambodia

15:30 William Harkness-Peds -UK

15:45 Robert Dempsey –FIENS

16:00 Christian Matula -Global Neuro/AON

16:15 Ling Feng- China

16:30 Adjourn